Description (markers, materials, arrangement, landscaping, fence, paths and roads, etc.)

Cemetery is supposed to be located in grove of locust trees. However, an extensive search of this wooded area revealed no markers. The fate of the cemetery is uncertain. Nevertheless, the grove was photographed and a GPS reading was obtained.

George Washington and then served with General Harry Lee in putting down the Whiskey Rebellion in Pennsylvania.

General Crabb was the first man to be elected to Congress from Montgomery County. He was a Democrat and served in the Fourth Congress from March 4, 1795, until 1796. His home was located on a farm now owned by Mr. Basil Mobley. General Crabb married Elizabeth Ridgely Griffith. Her father was Charles Greenberry Griffith, her grandfather, Orlando Griffith, and her great grandfather was the immigrant, William Griffith.

General Jeremiah Crabb and his wife, Elizabeth Ridgely Griffith Crabb, had eight children: (1) Charles H. Crabb, who married Mary L. Summers; (2) Ann S. Crabb, who married Dr. Richard Orme; (3) Elizabeth R. Crabb, who married Thomas Worthington Howard; (4) Matilda, who married Joseph E. Lackland; (5) Emeline died unmarried in 1824; (6) Lydia R. Crabb, who married Michael B. Griffith; (7) Sarah Crabb, who married Philemon Griffith; (8) Richard Crabb, who married Catherine Chase.

Elizabeth Ridgely Crabb and her husband, Thomas Worthington Howard, were the parents of Emily Howard who was born in 1813. On May 4, 1830, she married Major John G. England.

John G. England, Sr. was a native of Frederick County but came to the Rockville area. Soon after his arrival here, he was admitted to the bar on March 30, 1830, and entered private law practice. He was an accomplished public speaker and used this talent to advocate the Union of the county and the Republican party. He was elected to the Maryland Legislature in 1839 and served for several terms. He was defeated in his try for the State Senate by General W. L. Gaither. Major England, as he was often called, was also a trustee of the Rockville Academy. He died February 30, 1881. Major and Mrs. England, Sr. had six children. Five of these children are buried in the Crabb family burying ground.

The family cemetery of this family is on Kilmain I near Edward's Ferry in the Poolesville neighborhood. It is very neglected and cows have been allowed to use the area, so that many stones have been ruined.

Inscriptions on the grave stones:

- Elizabeth Remsburg, born March 13, 1813; died February 11, 1877; age 66; daughter of Sebastian, Sr. and Elizabeth Remsburg.
- Elizabeth Remsburg died September 3, 1866; age 86; wife of Sebastian, Sr.
- Stephen Remsburg, born June 19, 1786; died March 30, 1852; age 65. (On bottom of the stone is J. W. Kelly, Washington)
- Caroline Heffner, born November 11, 1818; died June 14, 1845; age 26; wife of Jacob Heffner, daughter of Stephen and Catherine Remsburg
- Catherine Remsburg, ___5, 1786; died October 27, in her 57th year.
- Henry Young, born September 4, 1791; died January 31, 1857, age 65
- Henry Young, Sr., born November 14, 1798; died April 15, 1863; age 64(?)

William Nelson Young died May 6, 1904; son of David Young Phebe R. Young died September 1, 1888; age 92; wife of David Young age 31

____ Young died in 1825 (Could this be Catherine, wife of Lodwick?)

Kilmain I is on a tract of land granted to Daniel Carroll in 1735. In 1772, Carroll's daughters sold it to Richard Bennett Hall. The next owners were the Youngs who came to Montgomery County from Hagerstown between 1812-1814. The family emigrated from Rotterdam in 1753 and the original name was Jong. Lodwick Young, Jr., the first to come to Montgomery County, was born in 1765. He married Catherine Shafer. He died in 1820 and his wife died in 1825. According to OLD HOMES AND HISTORY OF MONTGOMERY COUNTY by Roger Brooke Farquhar, they were buried in the family cemetery.

Lodwick built Kilmain II about 1812. This home is further up Edward's Ferry road toward Beallsville. Lodwick and Catherine had six sons and two daughters, and on Lodwick's death each son received a farm. David, the third son, inherited Kilmain I. He married Matilda Chilton in 1820 and they had a son, William Nelson Young. After the death of Matilda he married Phoebe Donohue in 1836. She remained at the farm after David's death in 1879.

Issac Young, another son of David and Matilda Young, was the next owner of Kilmain I. In May 1856, he married his cousin, Margaret Young. Their daughter, Verlinda Lucretia, married Frederick Claggett, and she was the last of the Youngs to live in the house.

Henry Young, third child of David and Matilda Young, was left the East Oaks farm across the road. It was then known as Little Oaks Manor. In 1823 he married Margaret Hiswell and built the present house on East Oaks farm. He was a member of the Levy Court 1839-41.

Elizabeth, the eighth child of David Young, married Sebastian Remsburg. They were the ancestors of a large and prominent family.

Samuel Young, also buried at Kilmain I, had a daughter, Alethea, who married George Brewer, Sr. in March 1849. Their son, George W. Brewer, II, purchased East Oaks in 1900. He married Betty Williams in 1907 and they lived at East Oaks until 1916 at which time they returned to the Brewer home, Aix La Chapelle.
