situated on the Olney-Laytonsville Road adjacent to and east of the Church is a large white frame building which formerly served as the Rectory for st. John's Church; it is now used as office apace by a travel agency.

The former Rectory is three bay by three bay, two-and-a-half stories, L-shaped and covered with white clapboards. The gabled ends have staggered butt shingles. The southeast (front) porch wraps around the building to the west elevation and has a flat roof supported by seven classical columns. The entrance is set into a projecting bay and there is a two-story bay window on the west elevation. The east elevation features a two-story projecting pavilion at the second and third levels. The building has a hipped roof with cross gables and is covered by pressed metal roofing. There is a small porch at the rear.

The windows are one-over-one throughout the building with nine-light casement windows at the southeast and west gable ends. (One-over-one double-hung windows).

Except for interior alterations made to adapt the building for use as offices, there have been few alterations.

DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

This three bay by four bay, one-and-a-half story church faces south. Built on fieldstone foundations, this wooden frame church has beige stucco exterior walls. There is a three story bell tower on the south elevation. Three poured concrete steps, flanked by wrought iron hand-rails, lead to the double wooden paneled doors surmounted by a stained glass tympanum window set into the base of the tower. The east and west elevations, first level, of the tower have lancet windows (presently removed as part of the construction work underway at the time of inspection At the second level, on east, south, and west elevations, there are round windows. At the third level of the tower, a large iron bell is enclosed on all four elevations by triple lancet openings. The tower has a low hipped roof surmounted by a golden cross.

The church has one-over-one double-hung stained glass lancet windows. The gable roof is covered by diamond-shaped black asbestos shingles. The cornice line is boxed and returned. There is an exterior stuccoed stove chimney on the east elevation.

The construction work going on at the time of inspection involved the removal of the north elevation. The church is being enlarged at the north end.

St. John's Church when built in 1842 was a frame building with four windows on each side. It is of "barn" construction of native timbers. It was moved on rollers by mule team from within the cemetery to its present location in 1910. Additions were then made at each end of the original building including a recessed chancel, sacristy and Dutch bell tower. The Church is now stuccoed, modified Gothic. The present renovation of the Church building will enlarge the building by the addition of a wing across the back of the original building so that it forms a "T" and is joined to the parish hall by a glass enclosed entryway. The building continues to incorporate the original building as the main portion of the Church and retains the bell tower added in 1910.

7. Description (Cont.)

According to Florence Wesp, Parish Secretary and Historian, alterations to the Church in 1979 involved the removal of the 1910 sacristy; addition of a new transept which doubled the Church's seating capacity; addition of a glass-enclosed entranceway connecting the brick parish hall (b.1956) with the Church; installation of a pipe organ; and the enlargement of the 1910 vestibule. The 1840's section of the Church remains. Total cost of the work done was approximately $250,000. A more complete description of the alterations and additions is available from records in the Church office.

The Parish Hall and an attached two-story brick Parish Day School (b.1962) are substantial 20th century additions to the Church. Mature landscaping and the low profile of the additions, however, prevents them from overshadowing the older sections of the building.

STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

Built in 1913, after St. John's Church was moved from the cemetery to its present location and enlarged, the former Rectory is a reminder of this important period in the Church's history. The Rectory on a parcel of land which was deeded to the Church in 1911 by Josiah W. Jones, son-in-law of Jonathan D. Barnsley, owner of a general store in Olney. Barnsley's store, opened in the 1830's, stood on the site of what is now the entrance to St. John's Church.

Now converted to office use since being sold by the Vestry of the Church to a travel agency in 1979, the large white clapboarded structure was the third building to serve as a Rectory for St. John's. The first, called Valley House, was a stone structure "at the foot of the Hill" on Route 97 in Brookeville. The Rectory was later moved to a frame house "at the top of the hill" which was destroyed in a fire in 1912, resulting in the loss of the Church records. The building at 3423 Olney-Laytonsville Rd. was built the following year to serve as a Rectory. Used as a Rectory until 1975, it appears to be in good condition.

The building is significant because of its association with the church and because of its vernacular Queen Anne styling, a reminder of an earlier era in the history of Olney.

23/84 Brooke Meadow

1711 Gold Mine Road

- Federal style farmhouse begun circa 1823 with two later 19th century additions, noteworthy for its simplicity and complimentary tripartite construction.
- Associated with Samuel Ellicott, successful farmer and director/incorporator of the Mutual Fire Insurance Company of Montgomery County.
- The bank barn is excluded from preservation as part of the recommended setting.

23/89 Walnut Hill

19515 New Hampshire Avenue

- Begun circa 1820, this brick farmhouse is noteworthy as the home of Elizabeth Ellicott Lea, one of the most prominent women in the County during the 19th century primarily due to her enormously popular cookbook, Domestic Cookery.
- The recommended environmental setting of approximately 4.5 acres includes the brick smokehouse and is bounded by New Hampshire Avenue, the north property line, the driveway, and the row of trees continuing from the driveway to the north property line.

23/93 Sharon

18430 Brooke Grove Road

- The original section of the house is a log dwelling built circa 1794 by Isaac Briggs. The house has since been enlarged and greatly altered.
 - Isaac Briggs, the original owner, was a manufacturer, publisher, engineer, and noted agriculturalist; a man of national stature whose contributions to society can still be seen. The historical significance of Sharon is the building's association with a man of such prominance.

Former St. John's Rectory 3423 Olney-Laytonsville Rd.

Built in 1913, this two and one-half story frame house features a wrap-around front porch supported by classical columns, a front entrance set into a projecting bay, a two-story bay window on the west elevation and a two-story projecting pavilion at the second and third levels on the east elevation.

The former rectory is significant because of its association with St. John's Episcopal Church and because its vernacular Queen Anne styling is reflective of the historic Olney Community which for the most part no longer exists.

March 1986

An amendment to the 1980 Olney Master Plan, 1980 Sandy Spring/ Ashton Special Study Plan, 1970 Aspen Hill Master Plan, and the 1981 Eastern Montgomery County Master Plan; being also an amendment to the General Plan for the Physical Development of the Maryland-Washington Regional District and to the Master Plan of Highways within Montgomery County, Maryland.

IMPLEMENTATION

Once designated on the Master Plan for Historic Preservation, any substantial changes to the exterior of a resource or its environmental setting must be reviewed by the Historic Preservation Commission and a historic area work permit issued. The Ordinance also empowers the County's Department of Environmental Protection and the Historic Preservation Commission to prevent the demolition of historic buildings through neglect.

It is the intent of the Master Plan and Ordinance to provide a rational system for evaluating, protecting and enhancing Montgomery County's heritage for the benefit of present and future residents. The accompanying challenge is to weave protection for this heritage into the County's planning program so as to maximize community support for preservation and minimize infringement on private property rights.

THE AMENDMENT

The purpose of this Preliminary Draft Amendment is to consider the Montgomery County Historic Preservation Commission's recommendations that the following sites be designated on the Master Plan for Historic Preservation and protected under the County's Historic Preservation Ordinance, Chapter 24A of the Montgomery County Code. A copy of the Ordinance is provided in Appendix B of this document.

(NOTE: Unless otherwise specified in the Preservation Commission's nomination, the recommended environmental setting for each site is the entire parcel on which the resource is located as of the date it is designated on the Master Plan as defined in Section 24A-2 of the County's Preservation Ordinance. Where additional buildings of historical or architectural importance are associated with a site, these buildings are noted in the nomination as being part of the recommended setting.)

| Atlas # | Site | Location |
|---------|--------------------|-------------------|
| 15/55 | Spencer/Carr House | 2420 Spencerville |

- Dating from 1855 with a rear section added in the 1870's, this three-story house is distinguished by three over three windows on the third floor and a one-story porch with bracketed pillars on the front facade.
- Significant as an example of the "Spencerville style", a local style characterized by a special grouping of architectural detail most notably half windows on the third story extending into the boxed cornice and roof line.
