COMMENTS

Suggestions for follow-up:
• Remove all the dead trees ASAP. Limbs will fall and destroy grave markers.
• Brick masonry walls need restoration and interior masonry stairs need to be rebuilt.
Safety issues, invasive vegetation removal, fence removal/restoration, signage, trash, erosion, vandalism:
• All of the mature trees within the brick enclosure are dead and pose a threat to the grave markers
• Use caution to climb up onto the perimeter wall. There are no stairs to get into the burial area.
Anything of significance about this cemetery?
• Cemetery land is retained by Jones family descendants.
• Cemetery was considerably restored in 2018 by Fred Kamprad who owns the adjacent property to the east.

My wife and I own the vacant lot at 9205 Brink Road that abuts the Jones family Cemetery. My son owns the property at 9201 Brink Road. After I purchased the lot I contacted Louis Jones in Laytonsville at 410-489-4586. He lives at 3200 Jones Rd, Woodbine MD 21797-7620. He seemed to have a lot of information on the Jones family. I spent a few months working in the cemetery to clear it. I have a photo of what I assume to be the original broken headstone for Priscilla Jones. I uncovered it, rinsed it off to take a photo and then covered it. I suppose I need to contact Louis again to discuss the future of this cemetery. He had said he had a friend in the tree business who might help him remove the trees. He also told me he was a mason and wanted to come over and fix up the brick wall. When I speak to him, I'll mention you and the information you shared with me. I'll mention the suggestion of bringing up Priscilla Jones' original headstone. I don't think I searched extensively for an original headstone for Somerset.
