DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

This is a two and a half story clapboard house in the Greek Revival style with wrap around porch which contains many elegant architectural features. The five bay front facade has finely detailed Palladian windows in the second and third stories. There are hipped-roof dormers on either side of the central pedimented pavilion. The front door treatment contains sidelights to echo those of the Palladian windows above. The rest of the windows in the front section of the house are one-over-ones. The porch, whose central pediment reflects that of the upper story, has classical columns. There are hipped-roof dormers on both the east and west facades. The west facade has a projecting two story bay. A three bay addition with two-over-two windows extends from the rear. The cornice has fine dentil molding throughout. The grounds contain a rather elaborate stable, a garage, and a small storage building.

STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

The Waters house is significant both for its architectural style and its place in the history of Germantown. The house exhibits the symmetry and classical architectural features associated with the Colonial Revival style. The proportions of the house and the refinement of detail make it an outstanding example of its style and the most elaborate in Germantown. The house was built between 1899 and 1902 by Lloyd Dorsey, half-brother of Madeline Waters and stepson of Horace D. Waters. The Horace Waters family moved into the house shortly after it was built and it was occupied by members of the Waters family until recently. Horace Waters was the owner of the general store in Old Germantown and, as such, was an important and well-known man in the community. His prominence was reflected in the house which was his residence for so many years and the road which bears his family name. Like many old Germantown families, the Waters family eventually moved to "new" Germantown which developed north of the original town when the B & O Railroad came through the area in the 1870's.

ABSTRACT: This publication contains the text, with supporting map, for an Amendment to the Master Plan for Historic Preservation in Montgomery County, which is an amendment to the 1974 Comprehensive Amendment to the Master Plan for Germantown, as amended, to the General Plan for the Physical Development of the Maryland-Washington Regional District, and to the Master Plan of Highways within Montgomery County, Maryland. This Amendment designates the Madeline V. Waters House, Site #19/13-1, at 19500 Route 118, Germantown, Maryland, as an Historic Site to be protected under the County's Historic Preservation Ordinance, Chapter 24A of the County. Code.

INTRODUCTION

In July 1979 the County moved to establish permanent tools for protecting and preserving its historic and architectural heritage by adopting a functional Master Plan for Historic Preservation and enacting a Historic Preservation Ordinance, Chapter 24A of the County Code.

The Montgomery County Historic Preservation Commission was created with the enactment of the County's Historic Preservation Ordinance and was charged with the responsibility of researching and evaluating historic resources according to criteria specified in the Ordinance. The Commission then recommends those worthy of preservation to the Montgomery County Planning Board for inclusion in the Master Plan for Historic Preservation and protection under the Ordinance.

THE AMENDMENT PROCESS

Upon receiving a recommendation from the Historic Preservation Commission, the Planning Board holds a public hearing to make its determination using the same criteria, considering the purposes of the Ordinance, and balancing the importance of the historic resource with other public interests.

If, in balance, the Planning Board finds the historic resource should be designated, it will then recommend a Master Plan Amendment to the County Council. The Council may hold a hearing before it acts, if appropriate. Upon approval by the Council and adoption by the Planning Board of the proposed amendment, the historic resource would then become designated on the Master Plan, and thus, subject to the protection of the Ordinance.

Like the Master Plan itself, these amendments would not attempt to specifically delineate the appurtenances and environmental setting for each resource. As a general rule, the resource would be recommended for placement with its original or existing property boundaries or, in the event of subdivision, at least the minimum size lot permitted by the zone in which the resource occurs, unless the Planning Board, upon the advice of the Historic Preservation Commission, finds that a larger area is essential to preserve the integrity of the site. The Master Plan Amendment will, however, indicate where the environmental setting is subject to refinement in the event of development. Where applicable, the amendment will describe an appropriate setting and specify those features of the site and their location relative to the resource that the setting is intended to protect. It is anticipated that for a majority of the sites designated, the appropriate point at which to refine the environmental setting will be when the property is subdivided. Designation of the entire parcel at the time of placement on the Master Plan will therefore allow the maximum flexibility to preserve the site while retaining the ability to be responsive to development plans which recognize important features of the resource.

IMPLEMENTATION

Once designated on the Master Plan for Historic Preservation, any substantial changes to the exterior of a resource or its environmental setting must be reviewed by the Historic Preservation Commission and a historic area work permit issued. The Ordinance also empowers the County's Department of Environmental Protection and the Historic Preservation Commission to prevent the demolition of historic buildings through neglect.

It is the intent of the Master Plan and Ordinance to provide a rational system for evaluating, protecting and enhancing Montgomery County's heritage for the benefit of present and future residents. The accompanying challenge is to weave protection of this heritage into the County's planning program so as to maximize community support for preservation and minimize infringement on private property rights.

FINAL DRAFT AMENDMENT TO THE MASTER PLAN FOR HISTORIC PRESERVATION

The purpose of this amendment is to designate the following site on the Master Plan for Historic Preservation thereby extending to it the protection of the Historic Preservation Ordinance, Chapter 24A of the Montgomery County Code:

Site	Name	Location	Associated Acreage
19/13-1	Madeline V. Waters House	19500 Route 118	7.90 acres

- The Madeline V. Waters House is historically significant as an individual Historic Site and as a potential resource within the proposed Germantown historic district as recommended by the Montgomery County Historic Preservation Commission.
- Typical example of the Colonial Revival Villa, a style popular for larger semi-suburban and railroad rural estates at the turn of the century.
- Circa 1899, Victorian structure incorporates a number of features characteristic of the Colonial Revival style including a ridged hip roof, a wrap around porch with classical columns and a central pedimented pavilion pierced on two stories by Palladian windows.
- Associated with the Horace Waters family, prominent early settlers of the Germantown area.
- The eventual environmental setting should equate to the portion of the site zoned I-1 and should include the allee of trees leading to the historic structure.

Subject: Amendment to the Approved and Adopted Master Plan for Historic Preservation in Montgomery County, Maryland re: Madeline V. Waters House

Background

1. On February 19, 1985, the Montgomery County Planning Board transmitted to the Montgomery County Council a Final Draft Amendment to the Historic Preservation Master Plan, proposing the designation of the Madeline V. Waters House at 19500 Route 118 in Germantown, as an historic resource.
2. Application for a permit to salvage prominent architectural features and subsequent demolition of the Madeline V. Waters House has been filed with the Historic Preservation Commission.
3. Designation of the Waters House would require the issuance of the pending demolition permit to be governed by the provisions of the County's Historic Preservation Ordinance.
4. On January 17, 1985, the Montgomery County Planning Board held a public hearing regarding the Final Draft Amendment to designate the Waters House as an historic resource on the Historic Preservation Master Plan.
5. The Historic Preservation Commission recommended that the Waters House be designated as an architecturally significant structure, reflective of the historic late 19th Century Germantown settlement.
6. On March 6, 1985, the Planning, Housing and Economic Development Committee met and recommended approval of the designation of the Waters House as an historic resource.

M:19-13-1

7. On April 2, 1985 the County Council reviewed the proposed Final Draft Amendment to designate the Waters House as an historic resource on the Historic Preservation Master-Plan.

8. The County Council finds that the designation and preservation of the Madeline V. Waters House meets the criteria of the Historic Preservation Ordinance and that designation is consistent with the land use and planning goals of the Germantown Master Plan.

9. The County Council finds that designation of the Waters House would achieve several purposes of the County's preservation program by providing continuity with the community's past, and an enhancement of the community's character and quality.

Action

For these reasons, the County Council for Montgomery County, Maryland, sitting as the District Council for that portion of the Maryland-Washington Regional District in Montgomery County, Maryland approves the following resolution:

The Master Plan for Historic Preservation is hereby amended to designate the following site as an historic resource extending to it protection of the Historic Preservation Ordinance, Chapter 24A of the Montgomery County Code:

Site	Name	Location	Associated Acreage
19/13-1	Madeline V. Waters House	19500 Route 118	7.90 acres

- The Madeline V. Waters House is historically significant as an individual Historic Site and as a potential resource within the proposed Germantown historic district as recommended by the Montgomery County Historic Preservation Commission.
- Typical example of the Colonial Revival Villa, a style popular for larger semi-suburban and railroad rural estates at the turn of the century.
- Its Circa 1899, Victorian structure incorporates a number of features characteristic of the Colonial Revival style including a ridged hip roof, a wrap around porch with classical columns and a central pedimented pavilion pierced on two stories by Palladian windows.

M:19-13-1

- Associated with the Horace Waters family, prominent early settlers of the Germantown area.

- The eventual environmental setting should equate to the portion of the site zoned I-1 and should include the allee of trees leading to the historic structure. The setting could be subject to further reduction at the time of development.

- The programmed relocation and widening of MD 118 will require a portion of the eventual environmental setting, but will leave sufficient ground to preserve the integrity of the Waters House and improve opportunities for the commercial reuse of the historic structure.
